Step by Step Guide:

To assist you in looking up online your property's Base Flood Elevation (BFE)

- Go to www.region2coastal.com
- Hold mouse over tab "Hurricane Sandy"
- Click on "What is my BFE? Address Lookup Tool"
- Scroll down the page to the top of the Map where it says "Newark Airport"
- Enter your address, making sure to include zip code, click "Get Details"
- Verify the map is showing your property location
- Your property's Flood Hazard Data will be listed below the map, showing base flood elevation requirements & what flood zone you are in (N/A results mean you are not in a Flood Hazard Zone)

Advisory Flood Hazard Zones

Indicates the lettered Advisory flood hazard zone associated with the location:

- Advisory Zone V is comprised of the area subject to high velocity wave action (a 3-foot breaking wave) from the 1% annual chance coastal flood. Zone V is subject to more stringent building requirements than other zones because these areas are exposed to a higher level of risk.
- Advisory Zone A is comprised of the area subject to storm surge flooding from the 1% annual chance coastal flood. These areas are not subject to high velocity wave action but are still considered high risk flooding areas.
- Advisory Shaded Zone X is comprised of areas of moderate coastal flood risk outside of Advisory Flood Hazard Zones V and A up to the 0.2% annual chance flood level.
